Part 1

I evaluated various aspects of the load/save implementation and explored ways to move the code more into alignment with desired functionality. I am giving myself an A for this section of the project again due to following through with my duties for Scrum and continuing to work on my assigned portion of the file load/save implementation. I completed all my week for this portion, and I was fully involved with the meetings.

He stated that he had continued working on his portion of the project, but he never pushed code for anyone to see, and he was barely involved in team meetings. He did show his code on his local machine to another team member, so he appears to have worked on it some, hence the 5%.

Part 3

We continued to improve our version of Scrum during this portion of the exercise. We were able to feel more comfortable and confident in the roles and expectations associated with the process. It will continue to be a work in progress, but we are finding our own working method.
