Team Member Evaluation:

Alex Diviney:

Grade: A

Percent: 24.25%

This person was incredibly involved

David Hellwig:

Grade: A

Percent: 24.25%

This person was incredibly involved

Ekow Barlow:

Grade: C

Percent: 3%

This person completed most of the work assigned but other group members contributed more. Ekow can be difficult to contact and didn't attend class this sprint and made it to 1 group meeting. When he does join meetings he doesn't say much unless directly prompted. He made 1 push this sprint, and it was some tests for one class, it broke the build, there were syntax errors and it took significant time to debug it. I don't want to be too harsh because I know Ekow is extremely busy with his personal life and other classes.

Michael Collier:

Use of Scrum and Essence:

We frequently have scrums after class and on the weekend. This makes it a lot easier to know who is doing what and how we can help each other in the future.

We have consistent stand-up meetings 2 times a week and smaller meetings to talk about more particular parts of the project. We occasionally do some pair programming as well to step through more complex parts of the system.

We also meet before the release of the build on that Sunday to review anything we need done and update documentation.
