Sprint 2 Team Evaluation

I am Grant Baird. I am responsible for getting the webpage put together. For this sprint I would give myself a C+ just due to my lack of overall results and not due to participation or anything else. I completed probably 20%. I did not complete my tasks. I have had a lot of problems getting IntelliJ and Vue and stuff to work and it has been a huge struggle. As far as participation goes, I am very involved. I have been to all except maybe 2 meetings and that was just due to some personal conflicts. We meet 3 times a week and I am always there. There was a lot that changed in our group over the first part of the group project. I was originally in charge of the client frontend but there was a miscommunication, so Sushan ended up doing that and then when Braydon Spaulding left, I took over the web front end. We had 2 members leave which was quite disruptive to the workflow.

First partner is Coby Garner. Coby deserves an A. Coby completed probably 35% of the work we did so far. Coby has been very involved and he has been helping me figure out the problems I have been having.

Second partner is Sushan Manandhar. Sushan deserves and A. Sushan completed probably 45% of the work we did so far. Sushan has been very involved and I know that he has submitted things but we had problems with our github working for everyone so I haven't seen it yet. This problem should be fixed by the night that this is written.

We started out assigning the scrum master and product owner, but things fell apart when the team fell apart. We are going to be reimplementing the concepts this week. There haven't been many problems, it has just been slow getting everything functioning. Overall I'm very happy with my teams progress and attitude towards the project.
